5 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
6 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
7 AT SEATTLE

8 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

9 Plaintiff

10 v.

11 DORIAM GERMAN MORENO-ROCHA,

12 Defendant.

13 CASE NO. CR19-203RSM

14 ORDER DENYING MOTION TO REDUCE
15 SENTENCE

16 This matter comes before the Court on Defendant Doriam German Moreno-Rocha's
17 Motion for Sentence Reduction. Dkt. #837. Defendant moves for a two-point reduction pursuant 18 to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and Amendment 821 to the Sentencing Guidelines. Id. at 1. The Court
19 has reviewed responsive briefing from the Government, Dkt. #855. No reply brief was filed by 20 the deadline set by the Court. See Dkt. #843.

21 In December 2021, Mr. Moreno-Rocha pled guilty to Conspiracy to Distribute Controlled
22 Substances. See Dkts. #654–56. Specifically, Moreno-Rocha and a conspirator worked together
23 to supply large amounts of heroin and methamphetamine to a Western Washington-based drug 24 distribution organization.

25 At the sentencing hearing on August 4, 2022, this Court adopted Probation's sentencing
26 calculations as stated in the Presentence Report, Dkt. #708. Probation calculated Moreno-
27 Rocha's sentencing range as 188 to 235 months based on a Total Offense Level of 36 and zero

1 criminal history points, Category I. He was not assessed any points for being on probation or
2 parole or for being under any other criminal justice sentence at the time of his offense. The Court
3 then varied downward significantly, imposing a custodial sentence of 102 months, well below
4 the applicable range. See Dkt. #719 at 2.

5 Mr. Moreno-Rocha continues to serve this sentence, with a BOP projected release date in 6 May 2026.

7 Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2), a district court has authority to reduce a defendant's
8 sentence under certain limited circumstances:

9 [I]n the case of a defendant who has been sentenced to a term of 10 imprisonment based on a sentencing range that has subsequently
11 been lowered by the Sentencing Commission pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
12 994(o), upon motion of the defendant or the Director of the Bureau
13 of Prisons, or on its own motion, the court may reduce the term of 14 imprisonment, after considering the factors set forth in section 15 3553(a) to the extent that they are applicable, if such a reduction is 16 consistent with applicable policy statements issued by the 17 Sentencing Commission.

18 In Section 1B1.10 of the Guidelines, the Sentencing Commission has identified two sections of 19 Amendment 821 that may be applied retroactively pursuant to this authority, commonly referred
20 to as the "Status Points" and "Zero-Point Offender" amendments, and has articulated the policy
21 and proper procedure for implementing those amendments.

22 In Part A to Amendment 821, the Sentencing Commission altered the "status points"
23 provision regarding criminal history, which now appears in Section 4A1.1(e)3 in the 2023
24 Edition of the Sentencing Guidelines. A person who otherwise presents seven criminal history
25 points or more now receives one additional "status" criminal history point, instead of the two
26 points that were awarded in the previous version of this subsection, while a person who otherwise
27 presents six criminal history points or fewer receives no status points.

1 In Part B, Subpart 1 to Amendment 821 to the Sentencing Guidelines, the Sentencing
2 Commission added what now appears in Section 4A1.1(c), providing a two offense-level
3 reduction for many offenders who present zero criminal history points. On August 24, 2023, the 4 Commission decreed that this change applies retroactively.

5 The Court agrees with the Government that Mr. Moreno-Rocha was not assessed any 6 “status points” in connection with his original sentencing calculation, nor is there any suggestion
7 in the Presentence Report that he was under a criminal justice sentence such as probation or 8 parole at the time of the offense. Defendant offers no responsive argument to this. Accordingly, 9 the amendment reducing status points assessment for certain status offenders does not lower his 10 criminal history category or sentencing range.

12 Mr. Moreno-Rocha does appear to qualify for the Zero Point Offender amendment, which 13 would reduce his Total Offense Level from Level 36 to Level 34. At Total Offense Level 34 and 14 criminal history Category I, his revised range would be 151 to 188 months. See Sentencing
15 Table, USSG Ch. 5, Pt. A. However, his original sentence of 102 months is already well below
16 this revised range. The Sentencing Commission’s binding policy states that this Court may not 17 reduce a sentence to a term below the low end of the revised range, except in cases that originally
18 involved a government motion for departure based on substantial assistance. USSG §
19 1B1.10(b)(2)(A)-(B). There is nothing in the record to support application of this exception in 20 this case. Accordingly, Moreno-Rocha’s original 102-month sentence is not eligible for any 21 reduction. Defendant offers no responsive argument to this.

23 Given all of the above, this Motion will be denied and the Court need not consider the § 24 3553(a) factors.

Having considered Defendant's motion, the Government's Response, and the remainder of the record, the Court hereby finds and ORDERS that Defendant Moreno-Rocha's Motion for Sentence Reduction, Dkt. #837, is DENIED. Appointment of counsel is DENIED as moot.

DATED this 21st day of August, 2024.
